Dear ...:

I appreciate your note with respect to the proposal of the Secretary of Agriculture to reduce price support on dairy products in order to bring supply and demand into a better relationship and also provide a sound approach to the present surplus problem.

A number of alternative suggestions and proposals have already been made and I am certain that the whole problem will be thoroughly reviewed and explored in order to develop a policy that is best calculated to serve both short run and long time needs. I shall keep in close touch with every one of these developments.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen
