Dear ...:

I share your interest in the Katanga problem and very particularly the compassionate attitude which you express toward the Katangese.

We recently had a confidential re-examination of the whole problem with the President and there are a number of factors as reported by the Secretary of State, the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency and others, which add to the complications with which we must deal. I have given this unremitting attention in the interest of a just and equitable policy and will continue to do so.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen
