Dear:

Even though Cyprus was annexed long ago as a British possession, the treatment of Archbishop Makarios and his associates was not only indefensible but an inexcusable blunder, and I trust that through appropriate representations by the proper agencies of the United States this colossal mistake can be remedied.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen