Dear ...:

The treaty bringing into existence the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development was approved by the Senate by an overwhelming vote and was signed by the President on Thursday, March 23.

We believe that certain elements of controversy about the Treaty have been substantially cured by a Memorandum of Understanding which was incorporated in the Resolution of ratification.

It is, therefore, an accomplished fact.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen