TITO'S VISIT

October 17, 1963

Dear -----

Visits of foreign dignitaries to the United States are entirely on an invitation basis and are exclusively in the hands of the President. I am sure it would be deemed gratuitous on my part if I were to undertake to tell the President who should or should not be invited or permitted to come to this country. This is especially so in this case since Marshal Tito has visited other countries in this hemisphere.

Sincerely,

Everett McKinley Dirksen
